Incremental sort

Consider the transactions of an e-commerce company. Suppose there is a centralized system that keeps track of the place of transaction and the time at which the transaction happens. Now suppose it is required to maintain that the transactions are always separated out by location for further processing. Assuming that the <place,time> tuple arrives as a stream of data, write a method that maintains, at any given point in time, the list sorted by city. Further, the transactions at each city should be sorted by time.

City names contain characters only from the English alphabet and are case-insensitive.

Time will be in 24 hours format with leading zeros for 0 to 9.

Input Format

N M // N is the number of entries in the already sorted list; M is the number of new transactions.

line 1

...

line N

line N+1

...

line N+M

Constraints

$1 \leq N < \infty$

$1 \leq M < \infty$

Output Format

For every new transaction, print the list, with that transaction included, sorted by city and within each city sorted by time.
